Thanksgiving Mealtime Strategies

FOR SAFETY PURPOSES YOUR DOG SHOULD NOT BE DIRECTLY UNDER THE TABLE WHEN PEOPLE ARE EATING.

- THIS STRATEGY IS MEANT TO PREVENT AND DISCOURAGE RESOURCE GUARDING ISSUES, AND TO ENSURE THAT YOUR DOG DOESN'T GET STEPPED ON, OR KNOCK SOMEONE OVER WHEN THEY GET UP.
- UNLESS YOUR DOG IS CAPABLE OF SITTING & STAYING IN THEIR BED DURING DINNER, THEY SHOULD BE IN A CRATE, OR BEHIND A BABY GATE, OR AT THE VERY LEAST BE ON LEASH BEFORE YOU SIT DOWN TO EAT.
- ENSURE YOU ARE PROVIDING A BALANCED ROUTINE BY DRAINING THEIR PHYSICAL & MENTAL ENERGY BEFORE SENDING THEM TO THEIR CRATE, OR BEHIND A GATE WITH A FUN EDIBLE CHEW.
- THERE IS NOTHING WRONG WITH SHARING SOME HEALTHY, DOG SAFE FOODS WITH YOUR DOG, AS LONG AS THEY ARE RECEIVING IT AFTER EVERYONE'S DONE EATING (TO AVOID DROOLING) AND WHILE THEY'RE IN THEIR BED/CRATE, SO THEIR BED BECOMES THE MOST REWARDING PLACE IN THE HOME.

3 Things to Bring to a Holiday Party

If you're bringing a toddler to an adult party, you'd be sure not to forget their 'Activities Bag', including toys, sippy cups, and snacks to essentially 'manage' the child. Our dogs also need help being managed in a stimulating environment.

Doggie Bags should include:

1) A familiar place for your pooch to sit, like a dog bed or blanket.

Bringing their bed from home will always represent a safe place in social settings, making it easier for them to relax.

2) A bowl for water and a separate bowl for their food, if you will be out during their dinner time.

Some people aren't comfortable with dogs using their dishware.

3) Toys and edible chews/treats to focus on while in their bed.

Providing your dog with enrichment toys and chews can prevent boredom and help redirect common behavioural issues, such as separation anxiety, destruction, and over-excitement due to a lack of healthy energy-draining outlets.

Here are some recommendations for edible chews:
